How do I figure out my income?

You can calculate your income by looking at your last income tax return.

- Look at Line 236 to find out your basic income.
- Add any child support you receive, which is on Line 156.
- Subtract the amount you were taxed, which is on Line 128.

The amount left is your income. If you have trouble calculating your income, call us.

What if my income was too high to qualify last year, but I'm making less money now?

Individual circumstances will be considered. Please contact the Resource Centre for an assessment.
